A secondary navigation bar has links for DONATE, JOIN, RENEW, and SEARCH. Below this is a blue header with 'Sleep and Respiratory Neurobiology' and a breadcrumb trail: Home > Members > Assemblies and Sections > Assemblies > Sleep and Respiratory Neurobiology. A sidebar on the left lists various resources, with 'Assembly Donations' circled in red. The main content area features a banner for 'The Assembly on Sleep & Respiratory Neurobiology' with a photo of a person wearing a sleep study mask. Below the banner are sections for 'What's new' (listing a journal club and a podcast) and 'Featured' (listing sleep education, questionnaires, and fragments). A welcome message follows, describing the assembly's focus on clinical and research questions. To the right, a photo of the Assembly Chair, Susheel P. Patil, MD, PhD, is shown.

Welcome to the website of the Assembly on Sleep and Respiratory Neurobiology (SRN). Our Assembly focuses on clinical and research questions associated with sleep, sleep apnea and hypoventilation, respiratory sensation and the control of breathing, intermittent hypoxia and cardiopulmonary and metabolic interactions during sleep. We aim to translate this knowledge into prevention of disease, and improved diagnosis, treatment and patient outcomes.

SRN has a diversity of members from both adult and pediatric spheres, including individuals with a primary clinical focus, researchers and educators. We also have a large and active international membership, that provide unique research and clinical perspectives from around the globe.

The ATS leadership is committed to sleep and actively supports our activities to make sleep one of the three pillars of the society.
